

dBu ma de kho na nyid
0. Verses of invocation			1b1
1. Statement of purpose			1b1
2. Introductory discussion: the three characteristics within the Two Truths and the division of provisional and definitive meaning			1b2–2a8
2.1	Summarized explanation		1b2–3
2.2	Extended explanation		1b3–2a8
	2.2.1	The three characteristics within the Two Truths according to the respective philosophical systems	1b3–4
	2.2.2	Teaching the distinction between the provisional and definitive meanings	1b4–2a8
3. Explanation of the division of the Two Truths			2a8–29a5
I	Basis of the division into Two Truths (dbye ba 'i gzhi)		2a8
II	Meaning of the division into Two Truths (dbye ba 'i don)		2b1–5a8
III	Meaning of the terms (ming gi don)		5a8–7a6
IV	Specification of the number (grangs nges pa)		7a6–8a6
V	Definiens of the Two Truths (mtshan nyid)		8a6–15a7
	1	Explicit definiens of the two truths (bden gnyis mtshan nyid dngos)	8a6–9b3
	2	Definiens of the divisions of conventionalities (kun rdzob kyi nmam par dbye ba ' i mtshan nyid)	9b3–10a6
	3	What has the definiens (mtshan nyid dang ldan pa)	10a6–15a7
VI	Valid cognition determining that the definiens applies (tshad ma)		15a7–29a5
4. Concluding discussion recalling the refutation of all other systems and the establishment of the Madhyamaka system			29a5–39b1
5. Versified summary			30b1–30b8
6. Closing verses			31a1–31a2
7. Statement of authorship			31a2–3

NB: The above outline is editorial and meant to provide an orientation into the text. Please refer to the edition for a precise account of divisions made by the author, and divisions indicated in interlinear notes, and editorial divisions of the text.